MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Results of [REDACTED]
Concerning Josef Mengele

1. [REDACTED] session with Mr. [REDACTED] had been attempting to determine the whereabouts of Joseph Mengele, the former Nazi doctor who had been in charge of the medical set up in Auschwitz. [REDACTED] had spoken to [REDACTED] in an attempt to determine Mengele's present location in Paraguay. [REDACTED] did not have any recent specific information and gave the implication that they would just as soon not actively attempt to find Mengele. He did say that a former German soldier by the name of Federichi had been beaten to death last year by Israel terrorists who thought he was Mengele. Federichi's wife lost portions of one of her ears and her stomach was cut open as a result of the beating. She survived the attempt and apparently wrote a letter to the German Ambassador requesting a pension as the result of her husband being a former soldier. These people were well known to the local Paraguayan inhabitants. They came from East Prussia at the end of WW II in an attempt to get away from political activities.

2. [REDACTED] on the basis of the recommendation of [REDACTED] went to the [REDACTED] and spoke to the manager, [REDACTED], a former pro-Nazi who reportedly knew Mengele very well. [REDACTED] said that the last time he saw Mengele was in 1970. Mengele had been a frequent guest and visitor and had resided in the nearby German community called Hohenau on a farm owned by [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] said that Mengele was a nice person, that he had provided medical assistance to many people at no charge; that Mengele most frequently played a card game called Scat; that he never talked politics but would frequently visit [REDACTED]. He stayed there overnight on four or five different occasions. [REDACTED] recommended that [REDACTED] speak to [REDACTED] a German [REDACTED] who lived in Hohenau since 1970 and who had known Mengele well. When [REDACTED] spoke to [REDACTED], he initially said that he had never heard or knew of Mengele. [REDACTED] asked [REDACTED] who had sent him and when [REDACTED] mentioned the name, [REDACTED] then confessed that Mengele had lived there. He said that he was afraid of revealing the details to a stranger. [REDACTED] recommended that [REDACTED] speak to [REDACTED] and said that he could provide more details on Mengele. When [REDACTED] spoke to [REDACTED], [REDACTED] admitted that he was a Nazi and was awaiting the rebirth of the Nazi Party of Latin America. At first he refused to admit that Mengele had been at his house, then later admitted that he could contact Mengele, if needed. [REDACTED] said that he had provided details to two German magazines about two years ago, and that later a Paraguayan identifying himself as [REDACTED] came to his house and advised him he had better keep his mouth shut on this matter and not to release any further data. [REDACTED] said that Mengele still comes around, but that he has his protectors (body guards).

3. [REDACTED] gave [REDACTED] the names of two people who might be able to help him. The first was [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] also admitted to being a Nazi. According to [REDACTED] was Mengele's [REDACTED] said that he had never been Mengele's [REDACTED], but then immediately discussed in detail Mengele's [REDACTED]. He later admitted to having changed Mengele's [REDACTED] said there were two people who could provide details on Mengele. The first, [REDACTED], an adamant Nazi who was forced to leave Paraguay and now lives in Barcelona, Spain. He was an intimate friend of Mengele. The second was [REDACTED] a [REDACTED] who formerly served in the [REDACTED] the German Army as a [REDACTED] described [REDACTED] as an elderly man who knew Mengele well and as the only [REDACTED] in Paraguay who had extensive contact with Mengele. According to [REDACTED] he was called in as a consultant on a [REDACTED] case approximately six years ago (circa 1968) because Martin Bormann was then living with Mengele. [REDACTED] and implied that Bormann was still in Paraguay and [REDACTED] said that Mengele is [REDACTED] in Paraguay and that he would think about providing [REDACTED] with research data. [REDACTED] said that Mengele had undergone plastic surgery, and that he looks much younger than his age. [REDACTED] asked if [REDACTED] had seen [REDACTED] [redacted] who was Mengele's [redacted] in Asuncion. [redacted] was the second name that [redacted] had recommended to [redacted] because [redacted] was Mengele's [redacted] when Mengele [redacted] He resides at [redacted] in [redacted] is reportedly a house in which Mengele lives.) The house apparently was well secured and guarded by what [redacted] called "armed heavies." When [redacted] spoke to [redacted] he said that he had only met Mengele on one occasion when he had to [redacted] He described this as only a professional occurrence, and that they did not speak of politics. [redacted] did not admit to having any recent contacts with Mengele.

4. [redacted] has done a lot of investigative work on the Mengele case. Somehow he was able to come up with the police file on Mengele. In the file he has Mengele's passport application, the passport number, the identity card which was issued to Mengele in 1959, the papers for obtaining citizenship, and a certificate for good conduct for the past five years (issued in 1959). The interesting part is that [redacted] certified and swore on the behalf of Mengele and gave Mengele's address as [redacted] Mengele apparently had married a woman named Martha Maria Will. In the passport application, Mengele gave the wrong name for his mother (his matronym) or at least gave the wrong one which [redacted] had from the German archives. [redacted] said this might have been in an attempt to use the matronym in his passport for travel so that he wouldn't have to travel under the name of Mengele. Mengele has received several Paraguayan passports, the most recent application was last year--1973. [redacted] said that a one-year old photo of Mengele is in the passport files which is located in the police department.

5. According to [redacted] a source whom he has [redacted] whom he declined to identify, gave him a rather cryptic message. The source said that it would be very interesting to find out who is actually residing at a home in Hohenau which is listed to a person named "A. Wanderer" with telephone No. 6. The [redacted] source implied that this might be Mengele's residence. Most important of all is the fact that [redacted] claims [redacted] admitted to him that Mengele is still in Paraguay.

NOTES which may be of interest:

Name [REDACTED] also appears as witness for citizenship.

Mengele, from 1954 to 1959, lived in Argentina. First arrived in Paraguay in 1951. Moved between Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay.

Father - Karl Mengele
Mother - Walburga Hupfauer

1957 travelled to Germany

11 August 1962 - German Embassy started extradition procedures. In November 1962 issued orders for his arrest. On 16 November 1970 again issued orders for his arrest. (Judge Manuel Antonio Perez Dominguez.)

Has worked as a representative for West German firm selling farm machinery.

Obtained Paraguayan citizenship on 27 November 1959.

In 1960 Israeli agents were looking for Mengele and he left Paraguay for Brazil.

SUBJECT:

Request for Traces on Dr. Josef
MENGELE,

1. The Strategic Narcotics Team requests that the Drug Enforcement Administration and the U.S. Customs Service conduct traces on the following individuals:

a. Dr. Josef MENGELE DPOB: 1911, Gunzburg, Germany. MENGELE is wanted by the West German government for war crimes and is believed to be hiding in Paraguay, where he reportedly lives under the protection of President Alfredo STROESSNER. MENGELE has used the following aliases which also should be traced:

Dr. Helmut GREGOR-GREGORI. Used in 1954 in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he practiced medicine.

Jose MENGELE. Used in 1959 to obtain Paraguayan citizenship.

Fausto RINDON aka Fausto RONDON.

Jose ASPIAZI.

Ernst Sebastian ALVEZ.

Friedrich Edler (von) BREITENBACH. Used in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Dr. Henrique (Enrique) WOLLMAN. This is MENGELE's last known alias. It was used in 1972 in Encarnacion, Paraguay, where he practiced medicine.

b. We are also interested in any information your offices may have developed on the MENGELE family business which is located in Gunzburg, Germany. The firm, called MENGELE & Son, manufactures heavy farm machinery for export. It is believed to have branch offices in Asuncion, Paraguay, and Buenos Aires, Argentina, and could serve as a mechanism to move or launder large sums of money, as well as to cover the movement of illicit narcotics. A second company that could serve a similar role is Fardo (Fardo) KG. S.A. of Buenos Aires, Argentina--a company in which the MENGELE family purchased one-half interest shortly after the War. This enterprise assembles German made tractors and other farm machinery. We would of course be interested in any additional information you might develop on the MENGELE family business interests.

SUBJECT :

Request for Traces on Dr. Josef MENGELE,
[REDACTED]

Reference is made to your October 1, 1979 memorandum concerning the above subject. At the request of the staff of my Cocaine and Cannabis Section, the referenced memorandum was clarified on October 11, 1979 by [REDACTED] of the CIA.

In response to the clarified request, a review of DEA files has revealed no information on MENGELE or any of his reported aliases and no information on the following subjects and companies: MENGELE & Son, FADRO (FARDO) MC. S.A., [REDACTED]

It should be noted that within the past few months our offices in Asuncion, Paraguay, and Buenos Aires, Argentina, also reported they had no information on MENGELE.

Furthermore, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

showed us a draft of his article that will appear in an upcoming International Narcotics Review. The draft stated that CIA had information that MENGELE may have been involved in narcotics trafficking. I was previously unaware of this information. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Also, please provide us with the documentation that is said to involve MENGELE with narcotics and with narcotics trafficking suspects.

Sincerely yours,

ISPERT was formerly head of an office in the Deutsche Burschenschaft (national fraternity-group); then a collaborator and adviser of Landeshauptmann HAAKE, connected also with the Buero VON KURSELE, which no longer exists. Dr. STEINER made HAAKE a specialist on Luxemburg, early in 1937. ISPERT had some loose connections with the Buero KOLTHOEFER. ISPERT was opposed to too strong anti-Bolshevist propaganda in Western Europe, fearing that the Church would take advantage of it.--Therefore he did not want too close a connection with the Propaganda Ministry. ISPERT had connections via HAAKE with the directors of the Four Year Plan. ISPERT had various helpers, e.g. Dr. MENGEL (Remscheid/Hasterburg), Dr. LUDOLF WASS; and Dr. SCHEERDIN (Aachen), specialist on Belgium and Holland and close to the Deutsche Institut of the Technische Hochschule, Aachen.
